

Dear Mr. Wilcox

I would honestly like to thank you for taking the time to come speak with us about your experiences in the USSR Indianapolis. Your experiences were very interesting and they helped me learn about the Indianapolis to a greater extent. Although I personally liked the fact that you were very brave and managed to survive in the situation you were in, that just proves that you're a strong and willing man.

Sincerely,

Vincent Rodillo

Dear Mr. Wilcox,

I really enjoyed you and your adventurous stories this morning. The event that will stick with me the most, is when you encountered those sharks. And you told us in that unfortunate event, that's when you decide whether you were going to survive or die. That gives me the inspiration to never give up no matter what predicament I'm in. So I just wanted to thank you for coming.

P.S. Your bravery is well respected

Sincerely, Trenton Warren
